

GREENHILL SCHOOL LAUNCHES $71 MILLION GROWING STRONGER TOGETHER CAMPAIGN

If staying strong and fit is the need of the hour, the drive towards physical activity and fitness has to start really young.

This is why Greenhill School, a co-educational day school in Addison, Texas, has placed great importance on fitness through sports by announcing the launch of a large transformational campaign, the Growing Stronger Together campaign.

This ambitious five-year, $71 million campaign will include the construction of a new STEM + Innovation Center, enhanced athletics facilities, and additional endowment. The campaign, through generous donations, has already raised nearly $45 million till date, including two gifts of $10 million dollars and higher, one $5 million gift, and four gifts of $1 million each.

It's been a pleasure to see the Greenhill school being completely and utterly committed to academics, arts, and athletics. The Growing Stronger Together Campaign has been aimed at bolstering students' academic programs in the science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) subjects, apart from exploring and enhancing their athletic abilities.

The Greenhill School received generous support for this campaign from David Fredston, founder and CEO of Sole Source Capital and his wife Rochelle Fredston. The school has found great honour in renaming the Head of School position for The Greenhill school as the David and Rochelle Fredston Head of School.

David looks at Greenhill as a second home for his family and believes that the school has an incredible future ahead with this campaign. It has become a matter of great pride for him to have his name associated with the Head of School position.

There's no doubt that having a strong STEM foundation and being part of a competitive athletic team will have great benefits for every child. At Sole Source Capital, we are highly excited to see this campaign succeed and continue to succeed for years to come.